The other way to hunt...

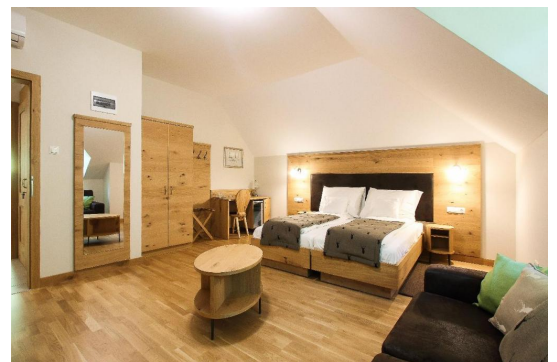

Fallow Deer Hunt in the Bakony

Offer Nr.: 2526

The Hunting Area: The area is located in the center of the Bakony Forest, approximately 700 meters above sea level, and is around 7,500 hectares in size. It is 65% covered with forest (Turkey oak, beech, pine), while the remaining areas are meadows and agricultural land. In addition to a very good red deer population (annual bag of 20 stags with an average weight of 6-9 kg), there is a good population of mouflon (most rams range between 70-80 cm).

The fallow deer population is excellent, with antler weights ranging between 2.5 and 3.5 kg. Approximately 80-100 wild boars and 30 roe bucks are also taken annually. Accommodation is provided in the hunting lodge within the area.
