The other way to hunt...

Rutting Stags in the Beech Forest

Offer Nr.: 2551

The Hunting Ground:

The exclusive 18,6-ha state hunting ground extends in Western Hungary in the Bakony Mountains near the village of Zirc. The hilly, beautiful area is approximately 70% covered with deciduous forest. The good professional staff ensures optimal conditions for hunting. The main game species are red deer, wild boar, and mouflon. There are many and strong mouflon. On average, they measure around 75-85 cm, but every year, some rams measuring up to 90 cm are also harvested. All rams have a very strong base. There is also an excellent wild boar and red deer population. Annually, about 90 red stags are harvested with antler weights of 5-9 kg harvested.

Accommodation is provided in a Class I hunting lodge located within the hunting grounds..
