The other way to hunt...

Fallow Deer Rutting in Cooperative Hunting Area

Offer Nr.: 2585

The Hunting Area:

The gently hilly, flat area of 4500 hectares is located in Veszprém district and is part of Balaton National Park. The strict control of hunting by the national park administration guarantees an excellent and well-structured wildlife population. It is undoubtedly one of the most beautiful landscapes in Hungary, where you can not only hunt but also enjoy beautiful excursions in the surroundings during the day. The area is about 30% forest, 30% fallow land, and the rest is covered with vineyards and agricultural land. In addition to roe deer, red deer, and wild boar, there is also a good fallow deer population. Some parts of the area are closed to local hunters all year round, and only foreign hunting guests are allowed to hunt here. The fallow deer stags reach antler weights between 2.5 and 4 kilograms. There are many wild boars and good boar specimens as well.

Accommodation is provided in a very good pension located within the hunting area. The pension is situated in the vineyards with a beautiful view of Lake Balaton. In addition to excellent food, outstanding house wines are also served!
